[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
WASHINGTON, July 1.—The business year of the present nation, which closed June 30, 1914, showed a deficit of $25,864,319, compared with a surplus for the preceding June 30, 1914, of $34,413,000.

Official explanation will not be issued until the figures for the Notwithstanding the deficit year's business, the treasury has an actual net balance of $52 million. With such a balance on hand, every prospect that it will be possibly by $10,000,000 in the next few days. It is evident that there is no issue of Panama Canal government bonds to replace the old ones.

Customs receipts for the last year amounted to $209,263,100, or $11,000,000 under the estimate made by Secretary McAdoo several months after the war began, and $82,000,000 below the amount received from the same source in 1914. With the end of the war apparently remote, it is known that many treasury officials are convinced that it is necessary to press to restore the old duty schedule for the next session. Sugar duties are due next year, whereas in the interim when it paid duty it brought in

The income tax proved the bumper during the past twelve months. Total receipts up to the close of last night were $79,628.60, of which $36,303,525 came in on Jan. 1. This is more than $8,500,000 over the total received from the tax last year, and there remain ten days in which it may lawfully be paid.

Officials are confident that this period there will be received income tax payments at least $1,000,000, which would bring the total to $80,628,600, or $1,000,000 above the amount estimated.

last year it brought in only about $90,000, but up to date this year it produced more than $41,000,000, that probably will be augmented several millions. According to Infante at hand, this increase is accounted for in any large increase in the number of taxpayers; in fact, it is understood that the number remains practically what it was in 1934. A closer examination of returns shows an evident intention of officials to prosecute tax dodgers probably to swell the total received. The corporation income tax apparently v

EMERGENCY TAX LAW. Contrary to current report, it develops that the emergency tax on whisky has proved an even better revenue producer than was expected. Dealers, however, internal revenue reports for the year, $385,828,377, only about $27,000,000 in excess of last year's. One contributing factor is that whisky is not paying the revised rate to produce by somewhere between $16,000,000 and $20,000,000.

EXPLAIN DEFICIT, JOB OF M'ADOO.

And it Looks as Though it Would be Hard Task.

But Treasury has a Balance of Eighty Millions.

Restoration of Sugar Duty Regarded as Likely.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The second business year of the present adminis- tration, which closed yesterday, showed a deficit of $25,644,251, com- pared with a surplus for the year end- ing June 30, 1914, of $34,418,677.

Official explanation will not be is- sued until the figures for the year are analyzed by Secretary McAdoo, but in the face of the records it is appar- ent that receipts were much smaller, as enormous reduction in customs revenues resulting from the war, while disbursements were much greater.

Notwithstanding the deficit on the year's business, the treasury now has an actual net balance of $32,025,716. With such a balance on hand and ev- ery prospect that it will be increased possibly by $10,000,000 in the next ten days, it is evident that there will be no issue of Panama Canal or other government bonds to replenish the coffers, for many months to come if all.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

Customs receipts for the last fiscal year amounted to $209,248,107, about $11,000,000 under the estimates made by Secretary McAdoo several months before the war began, and $2,000,000 below the amount received from this source in 1914. With the end of the war apparently remote, it is well known that many treasury officials are convinced that it is necessary for Con- gress to restore the old duty on sugar the next session. Sugar becomes free next year, whereas in the days when it paid duty it brought in about $10,000,000 a year.

INCOME TAX. The income tax proved the big pro- ducer during the past twelve months. Total receipts up to the close of busi- ness last night were $79,828,675, of which $26,303,522 came in on June 30. This is more than $8,500,000 above the total received from the tax last year, and there remain ten days of grace in which it may lawfully be paid.

Officials are confident that during this period there will be received in income tax payments at least $6,000,000, which would bring the total $32,000,000 above the amount estimated.

It was said tonight that the personal income tax proved a surprise this year. Last year it brought in only about $28,000,000, but up to date this year it has produced more than $41,000,000, and that probably will be augmented by several millions. According to informa- tion at hand, this increase is not ac- counted for in any large increase in the number of taxpayers; in fact, it is understood that the number re- mains practically what it was in 1914.

A closer examination of returns and the evident intention of officials to prosecute defaulters probably helped to swell the total received. The corpo- ration income tax apparently will be about the same as that received last year.

EMERGENCY TAX LAW. Contrary to current report, it now develops that the emergency tax law has proved an even better revenue producer than was expected. Despite this, however, internal revenue re- cepts for the year, $225,828,377, were only about $27,000,000 in excess of last year's. One contributing fac- tor is that whiskey is not paying the revenue tax to produce by some $20,000,000 a year.

Another thing pointed out tonight by treasury officials was that the Post- office Department, usually self-sustain- ing, has run behind this year and has received advances from the treasury amounting to more than $6,000,000. If this were to be paid back, the de- ficit would be that much decreased.

On the other hand, the treasury has paid out on account of the Panama Canal during the year more than $25,000,000, which is reimbursable, though.

Peoria. SEVEN MILLION DECREASE IN THE WHISKY REVENUE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PEORIA (Ill.) July 1.—Internal revenue taxes for the Peoria dis- trict, in which the greatest single portion of the Federal tax on the manufacture of whisky is collected, totaled $26,493,370.70 for the fiscal year just closed, according to a re- port made public tonight.

This year's collections, the report said, showed a decrease of $7,041,000, as compared with the 1914 collections.

One of the reasons advanced for the decrease was the country-wide prohibition agitation. Another was that during the recent depression due to the European war distillers filled their warehouses and now are dis- posing of their reserve supply.

Income taxes for the Peoria dis- trict fell off more than $20,000 for the year.

DE LUXE EXCURSION TO THE EXPOSITION.

THE de luxe excursion to San Francisco and the Panama-Pacific Exposition under the auspices of The Times management, will leave Los Angeles, Thursday evening, July 8, returning to the city Wednesday, July 14.

The Times has made arrangements with the Southern Pacific Rail- road Company to run a special Pullman train consisting of Pullman sleepers, baggage car, combination buffet and observation car and dining car which will take the excursionists over the Coast route to the Bay City.

On arrival at San Francisco the members of the party will embark in an auto-bus and proceed direct to the exposition grounds to take up their accommodations at the Inside Inn, a large, modern and splendidly equipped hotel, which is situated within the fair grounds.

At the exposition, the excursionists may suit their own pleasure in visiting the many beautiful exhibits.

The price of the ticket for the entire trip—which includes railroad fare to San Francisco and return, berths and meals on the train, trans- fer in San Francisco, accommodations and all first-class meals during the stop at the fair grounds and admission to the fair grounds each day—is $42.50.

More than half the party to go on the excursion is complete; there- fore, anyone who desires to take this carefully-planned tour should write, or call, at once for reservations at the Excursion Department of The Times, corner First and Broadway.

not likely to be reimbursed unless through a bond issue, for many years to come.

Including the Panama Canal ex- penditures, deducting the amount ad- vanced the postoffice, the account shows a net excess of all disburse- ments for the year over all receipts of about $57,500,000.

Total expenditures for the year were $231,527,572 compared with $700,000,000 last year.

Native Born Children of Natural- ized Parents Not Subject to For- eign Military Service.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Children born on American soil whose parents have become naturalized American citizens cannot be classed as posses- sing dual nationality and are not con- sidered liable to military service un- der a foreign flag, the State Depart- ment made clear in a statement is- sued today.

"While the United States always has recognized," the department says, "the existence of dual nation- ality in the case of children born in the United States of alien parents, or children born in a foreign coun- try of American parents, it does not concede that dual nationality exists in case of a foreign born parent who has acquired naturalization as a citizen. While the State Department extends whatever protection it can to persons of dual nationality who enter the country by which they are claimed, it does not assure them im- munity from military service."

Lieutenant-Commander Dodd is Placed in Charge of the Work on the Pacific Coast.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Lieuten- ant-Commander E. H. Dodd has been designated Pacific Coast superintendent of naval radio, a new office. Com- mander Dodd will have his headquar- ters at the naval training station, Yerba Buena Island, San Francisco.

TO UNIFY THE SERVICE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—The appointment of Lieutenant-Com- mander E. H. Dodd as Pacific Coast superintendent of naval radio was made, naval officials said today, to organize the Pacific Coast radio into a unit, similar to the organization on the Atlantic Coast. Lieutenant-Commander Dodd took charge of the work three weeks ago and has begun reorganization work. The Yerba Buena Island radio station will re- ceive only and the Mare Island sta- tion will send. Both sending and re- ceiving apparatus will be at Yerba Buena.

At San Diego the new naval radio station will send while the Point Loma station will receive. All repairs will be made at Mare Island.

Secure Injunction Against Hotels to Prevent Their Employees from Being Ousted Under Legislative Enactment Which Forbids the Farming Out of Privileges.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, July 1.—A temporary injunction issued in the Circuit Court today by Judge Frederick A. Smith restrained two downtown hotels from turning out the employees of Jacques Rouss and Sam Wolf, who pay $5500 and $6000, respectively, for the priv- ilege of maintaining the wash and checkrooms and in return collect the gratuities bestowed upon their em- ployees by patrons. Rouss & Wolf told the court they derived "reason- able profit" from their business.

The issuance of the injunction fore- stalls action by the hotels under the State law, which became effective to- day, prohibiting the leasing of wash and checkrooms to men who take tips from the public and pay wages to the employees.

The petitioners said that in leas- ing the checkrooms and lavatories they agreed to pay all wages, agreed to install fixtures and make no charge to patrons, relying on "voluntary" contributions of the public.

SCORES CRITIC OF LUSITANIA.

LORD MERSEY DISCREDITS HIS TESTIMONY AT INQUIRY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, July 1.—The British Board of Trade in the Lusitania in- quiry held another public hearing to- day.

Prof. Marichal of Queen's Univer- sity, Kingston, Ont., who said he was a retired officer of the French army, complained of the treatment accorded rescued passengers of the Lusitania by the Cunard company. Prof. Marichal said the second explosion resembled an explosion of ammunition, "like a Maxim gun." He also charged the company with indifference to the interests of the passengers in carrying a dan- gerous cargo and criticized the manner of conducting rescue work.

Counsel for the Cunard line then read a letter written by Prof. Marichal to the company after the disaster, ask- ing that cash be advanced on his lost baggage or he would give evidence "not to the credit of the company or the Admiralty."

"Doesn't that imply you wanted money for your mouth closed?" asked Baron Mersey.

The witness explained that he would bring a separate action apart from the inquiry unless he was paid, but denied that he remained silent at the inquiry for that reason.

"I don't believe you," declared Lord Mersey.

The witness expressed indignation at such an interpretation of the letter, but the presiding officer was unyield- ing and the professor left the stand in high anger. One of the objects of reopening the inquiry was to review the testimony relative to the state of the boats was largely technical.

Lord Mersey said the particular evi- dence he was dealing with was whether the straps and lashings were loose, the evi- dence regarding which was contradic- tory, but an expert stated that if the lashings had been loose the boats would have floated from the deck when the ship sank.

As he left the Federal Building adherents in the large crowd that filled the streets greeted him with "vivas" and hand-shaking. After a brief conference with his counsel Huerta drove to the home of his daughter.
Bessie Huerta, who was held under his bond of $15,000, the other defendants in court today were held under the former bond, as follows: Gen. Pascual Orozco, $7500; Gen. Marcelino Caraveo, $5000; Jose Zozma, $7500; Frank Alderete, $4000; He Alderete, $4000.

EL PASO (Tex.) July 1.—(Wireless by steamship City of Mexico to New Orleans, July 1.)—Repeated attempts made by the Carranza army directed by Gen. Pablo Gonzales to capture Mexico City have failed so far, and the forces under Gen. Zapata and Roque Gonzales Garza claim to have had the advantage in the fighting.
The Carranza army penetrated to the city, but was driven back and the Zapata forces say that the Constitutionalists have received a definite check.
Looting is feared by the merchants should the Constitutionalists capture the city. All business establishments have been barricaded.
The members of the diplomatic corps are meeting daily in an endeavor to protect the lives of foreigners.
The shortage of food is becoming serious. Forty thousand poor were in line in front of the international relief office today.
The Convention government archives and treasury funds have been removed to Cuernavaca, forty miles south of the capital. A train is being held in readiness to take the officials to the southern towns should the Constitutionalists enter the Federal District.

NEWSPAPER MEN BANQUET HUERTA.
EL PASO (Tex.) July 1.—Gen. Huerta was entertained tonight at a private dinner given by El Paso newspaper men. In a signed statement he gave his opinion of the press. He characterized the press as one of the most effective agencies for the uplift of humanity; said he considered the magazines and weekly papers wielded a great influence, because they were the home periodicals, and that the daily papers, because of their great circulation, were the chief medium of disseminating information, but that frequently they contained mis-statements because of the stress under which they are compiled and printed.
The general expressed his appreciation of the courtesy shown him, particularly because he felt it was wholly personal attention, free from political or other motives.
Someone referred to the wealth Huerta is believed by many to have accumulated in Mexico. Instead of making a direct reply he drew from an inner coat pocket an envelope with a somewhat bulging enclosure.
"There," he said, "is my fortune. That envelope contains that which is of great value."
"It is not money," Huerta replied. "This envelope contains a few dried flowers, flowers that my wife gathered and gave to me, and which I have carried for thirty-four years. I treasure them more than wealth."

Peter J. Byrne of Chicago Asks Appointment of Receiver for Big Concern in St. Louis.
ST. LOUIS, July 1.—Peter J. Byrne of Chicago filed suit in the Federal Court today for the appointment of a receiver to wind up the affairs of the Harbison-McKinnick Dry Goods Company of St. Louis.
The petition charges that the dry goods company's business was wrecked by the alleged unlawful diversion of $2,000,000 of its funds in connection with the erection of the Railway Exchange Building, which is said to be the largest office building in the world.
R. McK. Jones, chairman of the board of directors of the dry goods company, tonight termed all the allegations in Byrne's petition "false and absurd."
"The assets of the company are being liquidated in the quickest and most economical way by the committee in charge. A receivership would cost three times as much and would not get a cent more for the stockholders."
He said the money used for the erection of the Railway Exchange Building was spent legally and with the authorization of the company.

Preserving Time Again at Hand
Part Corn Syrup Being Used in Place of All Sugar.
Every woman who does her own preserving will be interested to know that most excellent results are being obtained by the use of part corn syrup and part sugar. In place of all sugar, in the making of all kinds of preserves, jams and jellies. The corn syrup being less sweet, more of the natural flavor of the fruit is retained, and it is only necessary to use sufficient sugar to make the product suit the taste of the individual. This is particularly true in canning peaches, raspberries and many other of the more delicately flavored fruits.
In order to demonstrate this property, it is essential that the best quality of corn syrup be used. Most excellent results are being obtained with the brand of syrup known as Karo (Crystal White), which can be obtained at all modern grocers. This is the ideal preserving syrup; and if you have not tried it before, be sure and do so this season.
In ordering ask your grocer for a copy of the little Karo Cook Book, which contains much valuable information on the subject of preserving, as well as on culinary subjects generally. For preserving purposes always specify Karo (Crystal White)—to distinguish it from the Karo table syrup.

The whole wheat grain is without doubt the most perfect food given to man. But you don't want to eat raw wheat—it would be imperfectly digested if you did eat it. Whole wheat bread made of so-called "whole wheat flour" is not much better. All the nutritive elements in the whole wheat grain are supplied in a digestible form in Shredded Wheat

It is the whole wheat steam-cooked, shredded and baked. It supplies all the body-building elements of the whole wheat in a digestible form. It is the shredding process that put the "Eat" in Shredded Wheat. Try one or more of these crisp, delicious little loaves of baked wheat for breakfast with milk or cream.

LOS ANGELES "FAIRYLAND" MARKS AN EPOCH IN AMERICAN MUSIC.

OUR OWN GRAND OPERA A GRAND ACHIEVEMENT.

International Stars Twinkle Here, and Elsewhere All's Dark.

Comopolitan and Critical Audience of Thousands Attends the Prize Production and Scene is One Only an Ultra Futurist Artist Might Paint—Many Noted Composers Pass Through Auditorium Portals.

THE longest step yet taken in the upward and onward career of Los Angeles as a musical center was achieved last night. When, three years or so ago, the Chicago Grand Opera Company with its long list of international stars made its bow here, musical sharpshooters decided that this community had reached the zenith. This morning the thousands that crowded the premiere presentation of "Fairyland" will tell each other that this indeed was the greatest accomplishment—made possible by the subscriptions of local music lovers, and above all, by the work of the American Opera Association.

While the great music centers of Europe are hung with crepe and the houses of opera in America show saddened doors through the summer, Los Angeles proves herself the world-wide exception, rising majestically and loyally to the occasion. Never has a more tremendous audience filled Temple Auditorium to witness a spectacle. Nor has there been an occasion when the audience has been as cosmopolitan or as critical.

It was not just an ordinary outpouring of first nighters. The constant stream of humanity that for almost two hours passed the portals leading to the bright interior carried with it composers and musicians known wherever modern music is known. Practically all the delegates to the National Federation of Musical Clubs and this festival of music, having its culminating sensation in this event, were present.

Added to these were the social lights of the community, then the ordinary lovers of good music, and, finally, the many who were on hand to say that they had witnessed a premiere performance, and perhaps, in years to come, if "Fairyland" proves itself strong enough to stand the ravages of time and musical decay, that they witnessed its birth. From the topmost seat to the orchestra pit every seat was taken; and this included the many extra seats crowded in.

SEEK INJUNCTION.

W. C. Cavitt, R. S. Barclay and other members of the Supreme Lodge of the Fraternal Brotherhood filed suit yesterday to restrain the lodge from putting into effect an increase in the insurance rates.

IT'S ALL GONE NOW.

The Supreme Court has reversed the judgment of a jury in Judge Houser's court in favor of the plaintiff in the suit brought by W. H. Hartford against the All Night and Day Bank for damages by reason of the rejection by the bank of a check drawn by Hartford for $10 in favor of one Lewis and endorsed by S. C. Maphet. The jury gave Hartford a judgment for $2500, and the court reduced it to $1250; now the Supreme Court wipes it all out.

HAY DOESN'T PAY.

Frank V. Smith, a hay merchant of this city, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday, giving his debts at $17,877.08, of which $11,498.55 is accommodation paper, and assets of $358.72.

MORE THAN A BARGAIN FOR THE BIG MONEY.

Lyrical-Dramatic Pageant Worth Perhaps
Ten Times the Price.

We Offer a Fortune for a Grand Opera and Get Something Greater by Far—Curtain Calls and Applause Almost Unlimited—Conductor Hertz: The Idol of the Hour—Good Work.

BY EDWIN F. SCHALLERT.

LOS ANGELES offered $10,000 for a grand opera to crown its musical festival, and got a lyrical-dramatic pageant worth perhaps ten times that amount in the magnificence of its appointments, in the exquisiteness of its settings, in striking contrasts melodic, harmonic and otherwise. The opera came to Los Angeles under the name of "Fairyland," and was received with unbounded enthusiasm by an audience which divided its appreciation between the authors, the conductors, the principals, the orchestra and the chorus in a fashion to make those who were concerned wish they could present a prize opera here every day.

There were no less than ten curtain calls after the first act and the applause lasted for all of eight minutes. It seemed as if it never would cease. First the singers, Marcella Craft, William Wade Hinshaw, Albert Reiss, Ralph Errolle and Kathleen Howard appeared before the curtain. Then there were more hand-clapping and cheers and bravos from every part of the house. Then someone called for Alfred Hertz, and the name was taken up and reiterated again and again, until finally somewhere amid the mass of scenery and busy stage hands, the conductor was found, and with him Horatio Parker, the composer, and Brian Hooker. And once was not enough for them to be called before the curtain. The audience wanted them several times.

Hertz was the idol of the hour. He wielded the baton over the great score of "Fairyland" with a command which only a master possesses. His reading, from an orchestral standpoint, at every point showed that wonderfully authoritative interpretation of the part of Auburn. His voice, while possessed of a beautiful lyric quality at virtually all times, was not at all times suited to the role. But he really rose to a remarkably adequate interpretation of the more lyrical passages, of which there are a large number in his case. Kathleen Howard gave one very striking picture of the abbess Myriel. She possesses a faculty for leaving an impression on one's mind by her dramatic power which she gains from her superb stage presence. Her voice

The season has brought many new styles in Silk Underwear, and brought values more tempting than any before, too. Kayser's Venetian Silk Vests with shield reinforcement under arm; pink or white, $1.50 each. Kayser's good weight Venetian silk vests with the new V neck; pink, blue or white, $2.00 each. Body Vests with dainty ribbon shoulder straps; pink or white, $1.75. Our showing of perfect fitting cotton or lisle garments is the most complete we have had. Vests 25c and up. Union Suits 50c and up.

William
Wade
Hinshaw

Mr. Hinshaw will appear again tonight in the Opera Fairyland in the leading baritone role "Corvain." His singing of this difficult part last evening more than pleased the critical audience who heard him. Mr. Hinshaw has won great success in the Metropolitan and Boston Opera Houses and is considered as one of the best artists in the country today.

The Chickering piano has been selected as the official piano by the American Opera Association and by the local Biennial Board of the National Federation of Musical Clubs.

Southern California Music Co.,
Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen:

I am glad to recommend the Chickering piano because I know it is worthy of recommendation. There are qualities in the Chickering tone that please the most exacting musician, and I find it ideally suited for voice accompaniment.

Sincerely yours,

William Wade Hinshaw

VALEDICTORY TO EDITORS.

Convention Closes with an Address by Gen. Otis.

Newspaper Ideals Voiced by Some Able Speakers.

Trip to Long Beach for the Scribes in Afternoon.

After three days of shop talk, the thirtieth annual meeting of the National Editorial Association was concluded in this city yesterday with a valedictory by Gen. Harrison Gray Otis. The election of officers and session of a meeting place for 1914 was made at a supplementary business session in San Francisco, the 17th inst., in connection with the International Press Congress.

"I notice in the audience a very distinguished newspaper man," said President George E. Hosmer, after the routine business had been disposed of. "He is a man who has been known to all of you for a great many years. While I regret that the membership of this association is but slimly represented here at this time, I know that I express the wish of the association as a whole in asking Gen. Harrison Gray Otis to speak to us, if he has a few words."

"President and delegates to the thirtieth annual meeting of the National Editorial Association," said Gen. Otis after the applause had subsided. "I greet you, perhaps a little late, but heartily. You are our guests, and I am glad to greet you here. I hope that you have gathered some information about the city and Southern California to carry home with you."

"To come from the teeming centers of population, from the seats of learning, journalism and of great achievements in the scientific and other fields. We are of the Pacific Coast, a new country. But the intervening mountains do not cut us off. I trust that here you have already found evidences of growth and achievement. I know that the first-hand impressions about us and ours that you will carry away with you will be convincing in a greater degree than any printed information that could be obtained."

"I trust and believe that you will not forget this visit, that you will carry away minds crammed with impressions. My salutations, compliments, and farewells to all of you."

TRIP TO LONG BEACH.

An impromptu reception, with Gen. Otis as the center, followed, and the association's thirtieth official meeting had passed into history. A trip to Long Beach as the guests of the Chamber of Commerce of that city was an entertainment programme yesterday afternoon. Automobiles picked up the visitors at the Hotel Virginia and arrived in this city in special Pacific Electric cars for a trip about the city. This ended at Rixey Park, where members of the Woman's City Club of Long Beach were noisier at an open-air luncheon. Last night, the visitors saw "The Chairman" as guests of the producer, D. W. Griffith, who made a brief address.

"The motion picture can be made the greatest educator the world has ever known," he said. "Its highest form will be a depiction of motion picture fiction founded on historical facts. What better instruction in the living of life today and tomorrow than a true knowledge of life in the past?"

"But, with the shallow idea of censorship that seems to beset us, how easy will it be for the spirit of intolerance that has already grown so important in our nation to attack the stage, and then the press itself."

Time being the essence of the contract, the session had to be forestalled yesterday by eliminating a couple of papers, so as to keep the meeting from lapsing over too far into the afternoon. But the papers that remained touched on pertinent topics.

"If the making of money is the only object of newspaper, then the editorial page is its greatest handicap," said Herbert Caveness, editor of the Chanute (Kan.) Tribune, in a witty but essentially serious treatise on "The Editorial Page."

"One object of an editorial is to provoke riots," he continued. "But if you really want to start a town riot you can do it more effectively by printing a two-line item about the town's leading banker beating his wife."

"Again looking at the matter from the dollars and cents standpoint, the truth is that the average subscriber—the kind-hearted, generous citizen who furnishes many of the shekels with which you pay the hired help, settle the paper bills, and keep yourself supplied with cheap cigars—does not take the local 'rag' because of its editorial splendor, rather in spite of it."

"But, seriously, an editorial page of the right quality is an important and necessary asset to a newspaper. It is the vital spark that gives it character, the factor that gives it increasing and lasting influence, that makes it a power for good or evil in the community."

NEWSPAPER IDEALS.

"Newspaper work," he continued, "is not a mere matter of money-making. It is not a mere process of scattering news. It is true that the editorial page is the least read part of a newspaper; that no money was ever won into the tills of the average paper through an editorial, and that much has been scared away. But I say, print editorials, run them upside down, crossways, or any other way, but run them, for they appeal to the thinkers of the community, and, through them, stimulate others to higher standards of action, a clearer sense of duty, a keener appreciation of the things worth while."

That the woman in journalism most times is an instrument for the advancement of suffrage was the frank assertion of Miss Marie Yelle Fenton, editor of the Logansport (Ind.) Times. Miss Fenton looks scarcely old enough to have a vote herself, but that she is eager for one was evidenced by several paragraphs of her interesting paper. She acquired the editorship of her paper through the will of her father. Her incumbency of the position has been marked by both an increase in the paper's circulation and in its earnings.

"The Small Daily as a Big Factor in American Journalism" was the title of Mr. R. O'Flaherty of O'Flaherty's Suburban List of New York, while C. H. Frink, editor of the Pasadena Star, told of "Scientific Newspaper Management."

The editors will see the city and suburbs today as guests of the Automobile Club of Southern California and will then leave at 3 o'clock for San Diego in two special trains to spend three days. The Pasadena Board of Trade will tender the visitors a complimentary lunch at the Hotel Green at noon today as an introduction to the automobile ride.

FIGHT TO THE FINAL MINUTE.

Last School Board Meeting is a Warm One.

Majority Vote to Pay Costs of Francis Libel Suit.

Guinn, Scott and Craig are Consistent to End.

At the last meeting of the old Board of Education yesterday afternoon, four members, Messrs. Frank, Bean, Steadman and Blight recorded a majority vote that it is the sense of the board to support Supt. Francis in the libel suit recently brought against him by a school-teacher by paying his legal expenses, it being assumed that the alleged libelous utterances were made by Mr. Francis in the pursuance of his duties.

Mrs. Craig, Mr. Guinn and Mr. Scott voted against the resolution and argued against it. Mr. Blight in making the motion said that the allegations upon which the suit was brought were based upon a privileged and confidential communication made by the superintendent to the Teachers' and School Committee. Col. Steadman speaking for the resolution added that Supt. Francis made the report to the committee at the request of the committee, was obviously acting in pursuance of his duties as superintendent and should be reimbursed for legal expenses in defending the suit.

"I shall await the trial of the case with considerable interest," said Mr. Blight. "I should like to know who of those present at that executive and confidential meeting told about the proceedings."

"WITHOUT MERIT."

Mrs. Craig, chairman of the committee involved, objected to the impression created by the statements of the other two members of the committee and said she knew nothing about the libel suit or how it came to be filed. Mr. Blight's explanation that others were present besides the committee when the report was made served to relieve the tension somewhat. Mr. Frank said that he had investigated the merits of the action and was certain nothing would come of it. "I am surprised that an attorney would be willing to handle it," he said.

Supt. Francis's report was adopted by a vote of four to three, Mrs. Craig, Mr. Scott and Mr. Guinn voting against it. Mr. Scott termed the action of the board in appointing Miss Grace Fulmer as assistant superintendent as irregular. Mrs. Craig said she had not even been consulted and agreed with Mr. Scott that the procedure was irregular.

That portion of the superintendent's report recommending that the Isaac Pitman system of shorthand be substituted for the Wagner system was passed unanimously. Mrs. Craig and Mr. Guinn voted for it. Mr. Scott not being present when that matter was taken up.

A written request from Miss E. Florence Kuhn to withdraw her resignation as teacher of music precipitated another wrangle. President Frank insisted that the matter be dropped, as Miss Kuhn had been given a lengthy hearing. She had been dropped from the High School rolls and appointed on the probation list of the elementary schools.

John W. Kemp, appearing for Miss Kuhn, stated that his client had not yet accepted the appointment and said that the resignation in question was secured from her in such a manner that she was entitled to have it returned.

It then appeared that no such resignation had come before the board. Assistant Superintendent Monlux, in answer to a query by Mr. Frank, said he had obtained such a resignation and admitted it was a mistake. Mr. Kemp asked the board to instruct Mr. Monlux to return the resignation to Miss Kuhn. Mr. Bean and Mr. Frank informally suggested that he do it, but refused to participate in formal action by the board to that effect. Mr. Monlux, after withdrawing to his office to get the resignation card, put it in his pocket. The board refused to discuss the matter further.

Mr. Scott received a summons to court about 4 o'clock and asked permission to withdraw. Col. Steadman told him that he desired to bring up a matter of importance in Mr. Scott's presence, adding that he had withheld the resolution on one or two occasions and desired to give the young people the privilege of having divine blessing on an occasion which meant much to them.

Mr. Bean and Mr. Blight voted with Col. Steadman in favor of the resolution. Mr. Frank, Mrs. Craig and Mr. Guinn declined to vote on the resolution, therefore, failed to carry.

Over the objection of Mr. Guinn the board voted to purchase about an acre and a half of land on Twentieth street for the purpose of building a gymnasium and forming the nucleus of a playground for Polytechnic High School. The price is about $30,000. Mr. Bean urged the purchase on the ground that the school has no playground of its own and may soon be deprived of the use of Prager Park.

The closing minutes of the meeting were in harmonious contrast with some of its earlier arguments. On behalf of the school-teachers and children a great basket of roses was presented to Mrs. Craig in appreciation of her work as a member of the board. Principal Larkley of the Seventh-street school, Miss Lloy Galtin for the teachers and Mrs. Emma Reed spoke in commendation of Mrs. Craig's work.

HEAD GATE HEDRICK'S.

Judge Trippet yesterday decided the action brought by Perry L. Hedrick against the Imperial Valley Concrete Company for alleged infringement of a patent issued to the complainant for an improved concrete head and fume rate, in favor of Mr. Hedrick. Under the prayer of the petition, the defendants are restrained from further manufacturing and dealing in matter of importance in Mr. Scott's presence, adding that he had withheld the resolution on one or two occasions and desired to give the young people the privilege of having divine blessing on an occasion which meant much to them.

Mr. Bean and Mr. Blight voted with Col. Steadman in favor of the resolution. Mr. Frank, Mrs. Craig and Mr. Guinn declined to vote on the resolution, therefore, failed to carry.

Over the objection of Mr. Guinn the board voted to purchase about an acre and a half of land on Twentieth street for the purpose of building a gymnasium and forming the nucleus of a playground for Polytechnic High School. The price is about $30,000. Mr. Bean urged the purchase on the ground that the school has no playground of its own and may soon be deprived of the use of Prager Park.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S RALLY.

ATTENDANCE OF ONE THOUSAND EXPECTED TONIGHT AT FIRST CHURCH.

One thousand persons are expected to be present at a rally of the B.Y.P.U. to be held this evening at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Henrietta Schoplin, secretary of the association, and other officers have been working diligently for a large attendance and an interesting programme. Rev. C. O. Johnson will be the principal speaker. Banners will be awarded for the best work done during the last three months and for the largest delegation present. Five $10 prizes have been offered for the five societies of the B.Y.P.U. or the Christian Endeavor that have the largest percentage of the total membership present. The winning societies will use the prize money toward paying the expenses of delegates to the International Baptist Young People's Convention, to be held in Oakland for four days, beginning next Wednesday.

A special train has been chartered for the delegates from Los Angeles and vicinity. L. F. Valentia, field secretary of the Baptist young people's work, has charge of the arrangements. The train will leave at 9 o'clock on the evening of the 4th inst. The round trip to San Francisco will be $12.95. The final announcements for the special will be announced at the rally.

BLANKETS NOT CHEAP.

R. F. Willer, for twelve years a sailor and for some time connected with the naval reserve of California, pleaded guilty in Judge Trippet's court yesterday to stealing a number of blankets belonging to the government and loaned to the California National Guard on duty at the San Diego exposition. He was fined $25 and imprisoned in the San Diego County Jail until the fine is paid.

Remarkable Sale of

Women's High Grade Silk Hosiery, 69c

The Sale Price is but a mere fraction of the real worth of these fine Silk Stockings.

NO PHONE ORDERS. NONE EXCHANGED.

This is an unusual special purchase of mill accumulations, from one of the leading manufacturers of best grades of silk hosiery for women. Every pair has a slight defect. Either a very neatly mended place, or a slight twist in the weave. In some instances it is almost imperceptible—but just enough of an imperfection to prevent being shipped from the maker as absolutely perfect hosiery.

They're Pure Thread-Silk Stockings, In heavy, medium and gossamer weights.

All full fashioned; some have lisle soles and lisle garter tops. Mostly in all black, or white; but the season's most desirable colors are represented and include: Gray, sand, yellow, orange, pink, blue, Nile green, old rose, emerald, hunter's green, cardinal, gold, bronze, smoke, silver and heliotrope.

This is an unusual opportunity. We're very enthusiastic over these great bargains and believe you'll be, too, after you inspect the hosiery.

The Stockings are very desirable and the faults so slight, we're confident you'll want several pairs at this low price.

The savings will exceed your expectations. Be early and enjoy the pleasure of first choice.

BUYING A HOME—

Did you ever know the satisfaction of living in your own home—The contentment of knowing that you are building up something for yourself instead of each month paying tribute to some landlord?

The same sums you NOW pay out for the privilege of living in somebody else's place will put your own roof over your head.

And the RESULT—at the end of a few years you will have a DEED worth two or three thousand dollars instead of a worthless bunch of rent receipts.

Which Do You Want?

We have sold thousands of homes upon these easy rent terms. Today scores of these folks own their homes. Their former rent money goes into the bank.

NOW is the TIME to BUY—every month you delay is YOUR LOSS and just adds another paper receipt to your pile—that same money would put you in YOUR OWN HOME.

FRIDAY MORNING.

Announcement.

WINNERS OF TRADE AND PROSPERITY CONTEST.

Grand Prizes go to Margaret Young and Ida Gossage, the Former Totalling Over Seventy-three Million Credits and the Latter More than Fifty-one Million. Others to Some Seventy Contestants.

THERE are many flowery and beautiful things that could be written about the Prosperity and Trade Contest, sort of leading up, as it were, to the announcement of the winners—but what is the use? Not a single solitary person would read them, but would skip all the flowery parts and begin at once at the list of winners.

To here it is and, while it savors more of heaven than of earth to expect that everyone will be satisfied and entirely pleased with the results, shown herewith, we do believe that everyone sufficiently interested in the contest to have any knowledge of its "works" and its contestants will agree with us that the prizes have been fairly and honestly awarded.

The five judges—Will C. Heffelfinger, Emil Firth, E. L. Clymer, E. W. Murphy and Otto Herbert Schone—completed their investigations yesterday afternoon and approved heartily of the methods by which the contest has been conducted.

There will be a complete resume of the Prosperity and Trade Contest in the Los Angeles Times tomorrow afternoon, in which the opinions of the judges will be given verbatim, together with the facts and figures concerning the direct results of the contest. The contest was a success in every respect, and the prizes awarded were of the most desirable nature.

CELEBRATES TOO EARLY.
Boy Puts Torpedoes on Street Car Tracks, Raises Disturbance and is Arrested.
Jerry Murphy advanced the calendar yesterday and celebrated the Fourth of July by putting torpedoes on the street-car tracks at Twelfth and Main streets. The passage of the cars was accompanied by a bombardment satisfactory to Jerry, 16 years of age, but alarming to the passengers and annoying to the street-car men. He continued his noisy pastime so diligently he was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace, and was taken to the Central Police Station where he was given into the custody of his juvenile officers.

EXAMINE JIBBUS DRIVERS.

Police Head Appoints Board to Test Men who Would Pilot Nickel-chasers on City's Streets.

Candidates for the privilege of piloting jibbus must pass a written examination of sixty questions, and prove their ability to drive the machines through the congested districts, under the provisions of the new ordinance.

Acting Chief of Police Home has appointed Traffic Sergeant Grogan, Head Chauffeur Schreiner and Chauffeur Earl Gara as the examining board. They will submit the written examinations which include such a bewildering variety of queries, even to the mooted point of how many persons may sit on the front seat of the jibbus.

CATCH ALLEGED SLAYER.

Negro Accused of Killing His Sweetheart with Ax Here is Captured in Denver.

George Ecton, a negro, charged with having murdered his sweetheart, Mrs. Savannah Jones, May 16, in her home, No. 1723 East Ninth street, was arrested in Denver yesterday at the request of the Los Angeles police department. The killer used an ax in his assault.

INCREASING THE HEAT.

Fire at Hottest Hour of the Day Damages Lodging-house and Apartment-house on West Sixth street.

At the hottest hour of the day fire appeared on the roof of a flat building, No. 640 West Sixth street, yesterday, sending the eight families occupying it into the street. The fire, which started in the kitchen of one of the apartments, was quickly moved to permit of its being extinguished. It continued next door to the Parolia apartments, owned by Mrs. J. B. Grant.

ASSAULTED BY RED.

Street Evangelist Has Arm Broken by Rabid Socialist Jealous of His Waning Popularity.

In retaliation for the loss of his auditors, a man known to be an infidel Socialist pushed C. K. Rober, a street preacher, from his temporary pulpit on the street at Eighth street and Broadway Wednesday evening, causing a fracture of Mr. Rober's right arm. The latter, who was unprepared for the rush by the fanatic, was toppled off of his box and fell to the pavement on his elbow. The assailant escaped in the crowd.

EMPIRE STATE MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the New York State Society this evening in the Times Assembly-rooms. Music, dance and refreshments are on the programme. New Yorkers and their friends are welcome.

The Passing of Barefoot Days.

BY LESTER J. SKIDMORE.

(One of the prominent delegates to the recent medical convention in San Francisco asserts that the life of the barefoot country boy, despite the accepted belief, is not the proper environment to promote health and strength; and that city boys grow up "rosy and rugged.")

"Blessings on thee, little man, Barefoot boy, with cheeks of tan!"

Little did the poet know As he penned this years ago, Deadly germs lurked to destroy Every freckled, barefoot boy. Learned doctors have decreed That his life was sad, indeed. There was danger in his goal— The beloved swimming hole: And "his red cheeks redder still, Kissed by strawberries on the hill." Were the very found, in truth, For the puny, sickly youth. He was happy, yes, we'll trow; But our mothers didn't know How to rear their pride and joy— Tossled-headed, barefoot boy.

"Health that mocks the doctor's rules, Knowledge never learned of schools."

Ah! 'tis sad that ignorance Wrecked the budding lives, perchance, Of the youth of other days Who but knew of nature's ways. As the poet sings his song We have pictured them as strong, Healthy, hearty, care-free boys, Reveling in their outdoor joys. But the learned medical men From whom only wisdom flows, Say the city's life and noise Make for rosy, rugged boys. City homes, the breeding place For the saviors of the race. Yes, 'tis sad they didn't know All About it, years ago.

"Ah! that thou couldst know thy joy, Ere it passes, barefoot boy."

Yes, the doctors may be right— True the logic they indite. But as scenes of youth return, How the budding lives, perchance, To those pleasant country ways Of our blessed barefoot days! From the dawn 'till set of sun Was one roundelay of fun. Winter, summer, spring and fall, Held their glories for us all. All too soon our feet did hide "In the prison cell of pride." All too soon we were to find Life ahead and joy behind. Would the roundelay could be the joy That enfolds you, barefoot boy!

Pitcher Terau Only Lasts Three Innings.

Dodgers Find Schauer Just as Easy.

Schupp Slammed 'All Over Ball Lot.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

BROOKLYN, July 1.—Brooklyn pounded Terau hard in the third inning of today's game, bunching five hits, which netted five runs and won from New York, 9 to 2. Schauer, who succeeded Terau, lasted only three innings and Schupp, who replaced Schauer, looked the same to Brooklyn batsmen. Rucker was hit freely, but good support kept down the Giants' runs. HILLYARD IS HERO OF GAME.

TWO-BASE HIT CLEANS BAKES AND BEATS OAKS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

PORTLAND (Or.) July 1.—Dave Hillyard smashed a two-bagger against right-field fence in the eighth inning today with Stump on second, Bates on first and Portland on the verge of a 1-to-9 score. The bases were cleaned and the game was won. Harry Krause outpitched Ables and was entitled to a shut-out but for Dave's error, which allowed Guss to score in the sixth. Score:

ANALYSIS OF THE SERAPHS.
Victories are More of a Surprise than Slump.
Heavy Hitters Have Failed to Show Form.
Hitting Staff Beginning to Improve.
BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
Each of those who are doing a manual job of work, pulling, as it were, for the angels to win, have reason to feel encouraged.
These splendid athletes have now won four games in a row, including the final game of last week's series, and from looking like one of the worst ball teams in the world are behaving like one of the best.
That has been the experience of every club in the circuit this year. All of them have been in-and-out of the basement. One week looks like a sailing party, and the next week a stake horse, and vice versa. Our clubs are neither mediocres nor lukewarm. They are either bums or champions, the same depending on their mood.
The Salt Lake club is just now in the throes of a terrible slump, and the angels are just coming out of one. There is nothing more formidable in the world than a club emerging from a slump. That is a time when the bums are hit-hungry, and when a guy is hitting well he generally is a winner in the field. Batting holds a wonderful sway over the mental moods of an athlete. If he is hitting poorly, it does not necessarily affect his batting. But if his batting is on the bum, then look out for a complete collapse. The athlete becomes demoralized, seized with a sort of panic, and he looks like a quail in the field and on the bases at home. Also, the hitting of the club has a big influence on the pitcher. With the boys hitting the pitcher takes courage and confidence. Perseverance, if a pitcher has no faith in the ability of his mates to make a run now and then, and feel properly he is likely to become the victim of discouragement and blow up like a bomb. However, it is a rule that works both ways. When the pitchers are going bad, it is almost sure to have a demoralizing effect on the other players. They sluff off in their hitting, and lose running and everything else.
During their two weeks' sojourn in Los Angeles, which was their initial appearance here, the Bees put up the perfect brand of ball seen in these parts this year. On their return to their home town, they played a badly dilapidated kind of ball, their players unable to stem the tide of home runs and the batters not hit quite as vigorously as when the angels were young.
The angels started pretty strong, and are now coming back. They have a new club in many respects, floundered in the early part of the race, later took a fresh start by winning a new club in many respects, until they came into the league this week. Portland, a bunch of slugs at the start, and for two weeks the joke team of the league, have been gradually remodeled, and are causing grave fears to be entertained in other cities of the league.
The angels have jumped from fifth place to third, and have been an in-and-outer, and the Bees have been somewhat the same way, although fairly consistent. The pertinacity with which they have hung onto first place. Like the German army, the Bees show lots of tenacity. They have had more than one hard beating, only to turn up and win the next week. Whether they are able to recuperate in this manner after the other clubs get to going good is another question. We are dealing with what has happened to date.
The recent slump of the angels was not so surprising as the fact that they are away to as good a start as they did. This is a statement which calls for an explanation. Otherwise, it might be misconstrued. They have won the season with a new technique, which is the heart and lungs of the infield. Flanking second base with a couple of kids who had never seen each other before. And if there is any place in the world where cooperation of effort is essential, it is around second base. Fully one-third of the game is played there.
Nobody figured that Zeb and Fred would get acquainted inside of a month or six weeks, and still they managed to deliver.
But the news around second base was not all. The angel pitching staff started the season far below its 1914 form, while Bill Abstein and Rube Ellis last year drove in the bulk of the runs, failed utterly. Despite all the news enumerated, the angels won, and have kept themselves in the first place much of the time right around the second base. Even their slump failed to cost them from among the upper

TROJANS FORCED TO GIVE PUBLIC REAL FOOTBALL.

BY HOWARD ANGUS.

U.S.C. MUST either make good with the sporting public through its athletic programs of the coming season or quit athletics. The isolated Trojans face the most critical year of their existence. They are not kidding themselves along. They admit it.
The other colleges of the south, welded together by a triple bass alliance have shoved the Trojans out of all hope of games with them. True they asked U.S.C. to come in out of the rain. But U.S.C. could only enter by accepting what a month or so ago rejected. She could only refuse. The college situation has become a game of freeze-out.
U.S.C. must depend for competition on outside universities and colleges. The Trojans will hope Whittier and Redlands will meet them but their hope is futile. Occidental and Pomona will not let them.
"We have to make good," said a Trojan yesterday. "We have only our own students and the public to draw on."
THE PROGRAMME.
What have the Trojans to offer? A game with California in football and a possible game with Oregon. An agreement has been entered into with Utah, but that does not bring the Salt Lake team here until 1916. The Trojans go there this fall. That leaves U.S.C. only one and possibly two important games. The athletic club and the high schools. But those games have never roused much excitement. They may meet the Sherringtons and the high schools, but there will be another poor game.
So the manager of the Trojans is out after another big college game, footed. He is banking on the outside games to pull U.S.C. through.
The public likes to see outside teams. "This conference is against bringing them. By our agreement with California we can keep that university from meeting the conference colleges. The visit of the Californians will be the exciting event."
So it will.
Outside games cost money. So the Trojans are raising a war fund. Every student who attends U.S.C. next year will be taxed $4 for athletic purposes. That will give the manager $1800 more than he had last season.
THE BLAME.
While U.S.C. is launching what she claims to be a better and greater athletic policy, there is no doubt that Occidental and Pomona slipped one over when they lined up Whittier and Redlands. That cut off all hope of local competition. It seems U.S.C. made the mistake of dealing with the student managers. Her rivals went directly to the presidents of Whittier and Redlands and got results.
The Trojans lay the blame for this on Dr. John Willis Buer of Occidental. They seem to think he is the instigator of the whole freeze-out scheme. They say that in broadening the rule so that Whittier, Redlands and Thorpe can use freshmen, he adopted just what Occidental refused when U.S.C. suggested it.
"We will never enter a conference," said a Trojan president. "The athletic management of U.S.C. last night. Athletics are for the students and should be run by them. Freshmen have theories. Students work along practical lines. The freshmen rule may be all right when a school can afford it, but not until then."
DIFFERENT.
But the real trouble is that U.S.C. and the other colleges are not the same. U.S.C. is a university. It is unfortunate in the long run to have all rivals of a like size. Its getting along

HARBOR A.C. TO HAVE REAL BOUTS.

OLD PRELIMINARY FIGHTERS YANKED FROM SCHEDULE FOR PROGRAMME.

The Harbor Athletic Club at San Pedro has arranged some classy bouts for next Saturday night. Matchmaker Harry Burns has lined up most of the old timers that graced the preliminaries at the old Vernon arena. The names will bring back fistic dreams to some of the old fans.
Harry Atwood meets Joe Burns, Johnny Arroyo battles Joe Dill. Battling Chico is matched with Joe Conley. Byrri Hutton and Johnny Oliver are to stop. The other matches are some of the old fans.
Joe Siegelman vs. Young Sneider, and Jimmy Arroyo vs. Jimmy Agnew. The list makes a rather sumptuous fistic array, but these old war horses are all perfectly good animals and they box merely for glory and give and gold medals.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

BY GRACE HINGLEY

The Morocco Theater in one busy little joint these days while "So Long, Letty" is taking shape.

Earl Carroll, who is "so tall and thin he looks like the afternoon shadow of somebody else," skips about from orchestra to stage, or sits in a box and beats his knees and whistles shrilly whatever tune the orchestra happens to be playing; Walter Callett is a high-voltage dancer, and rehearses like steam engine, and when he isn't doing anything else he sits in the box and beats his knees and whistles shrilly whatever tune the orchestra happens to be playing; Walter Callett is a high-voltage dancer, and rehearses like steam engine, and when he isn't doing anything else he sits in the box and beats his knees and whistles shrilly whatever tune the orchestra happens to be playing.

And all the while Manager Oliver Morocco and Elmer Harris, who know the piece as well they can take it apart and put it together again, go quietly from one actor to another, and with a touch here and a word there, bring everybody into harmony.

Author, B'good.

Sidney Grant says that when he forgets the words of a song, he improvises.

"Sounds just like 'The Jabberwock,' sometimes," he says. "I just sing, 'Bif, bif, bif, hum tee do, et-tum, del-coo-oo!' or words to that effect. And I'm always very careful of the rhyme and meter."

Some "Gels."

The chorus are all pipette right off the top of the barrel. Not one of those pretty ponies looks a day over 14, even in bloomers and short waist, which are some test. And can't they dance, too—those dances "written" by Billie Rock especially for them.

"Cabaret Night."

Grant and Greenwood's "Cabaret Night" is warranted the most whistle tune heard on the stage in many a day.

Not Naughty.

Also Charlotte Greenwood does a hochie-kochie, which, while graceful and amusing, is warranted strictly peepshow.

And May Boley's song, "All the Comforts of Home," promises to make the house register much joy.

And Earl Carroll boasts that there isn't a tune that can't be danced to in the whole bloomin' op'ry.

Pony.

Elmer Harris says that ever since I told the truth in this veracious column about his making $30,000 off his silver foxes this year, he has been hounded by real estate, automobile and insurance agents.

And this morning when, to escape them, he fled out of the stage entrance of the Morocco, he met a man leading a mangy fox going on three legs, who asked him (the man did, not the fox) what he Harris, fed his foxes, anyhow, and wanted Harris to take his fox in as a summer boarder!

Nat in Revue.

Nat Willis, at the Orpheum, has signed up with Chas Dillingham to appear in the mammoth revue, "The Manager Will Put on at the New York Hippodrome next season. Nat will do his tramp specialty, and will be featured in that character throughout.

War Riders.

Nazimova will open at the Orpheum on July 13. The public apparently cannot wait for the subscription sale to begin next Monday, but is sending in orders by mail.

A woman came to the box office the other day and inquired "when Miss Nazimova's war baby would be there."—said she'd heard a lot about war babies and would like to see one.

New Staff.

Elizabeth Murray, fair warbler of Irish songs at the Orpheum this week, is to have a new act next season, made up of grand opera travesties in which she will sing her "rags" as certain great opera singers would render them. They're a scream.

Holla, Bertha.

Bertha Brown has returned to her home in this city after a long vaudeville tour in South America and Panama.

Livey Fanny.

Fanny Ward, who will appear in another picture for the Lasky Company, the scenario of which will be written by Hector Turnbull, related the difficulty she had in getting into the "film tempo."

"You see, I naturally work very quickly," she said. "So when I began work before the camera, I had finished the scene before they began to crank!"

Elde Very Soon.

Miss Ferguson will appear at the Mason a week earlier than was formerly announced. She will open in "Outcast" on July 12, instead of July 19.

Midnight Flicks.

Remember the milkmen's mattress at Miller's on Saturday night.

Face Cards.

Mr. James Davenport Whelpley, well-known authority on international politics, accompanied by Mrs. Whelpley, will make a tour of the motion-picture studios today.

Star Dust.

Tully Marshall, well-known Broadway star, has arrived at the Griffith Mutual studio, and will be featured in a film version of Horace Naible's novel, "The Sable Larch."

Angels in Second Place.

and Ryan remain tied they will compromise, one of them taking the coat and the other the pants and vest.

NOSE COLLAPSED.

Truck Hannah was the victim of the other accident. In the first inning he got his nose in front of Walter, who was sliding across the plate. Hannah has a good, substantial nose, but it is hardly strong enough to block runners away from the plate. When put to this test yesterday the nose collapsed completely. Hannah leaned on the shoulder of a sympathizing friend and inhaled a quantity of blood estimated as sufficient to fill a five-pound lard bucket. The grandstand was then paged for a nose specialist and Hannah taken to the clubhouse for treatment. An investigation showed that the bear had been flattened out of all resemblance to itself. It had lost all of its personality, and in its place was a large purple spot. However, an expert in nasal architecture restored to it its former beauty. The doctor built a scaffold inside of it to take the place of the busted bridge, and then, to hold the nose in its rightful position on the face, passed a piece of wire tape over it and stuck the end of the same under each eye. With this disguise running across his face and his cap pulled pretty well down, Truck looks a good deal like a highway robber, but he isn't. The only thing that he will ever hold up is a baseball magnate, and that comes within the law. Daddy Rohrer finished the game behind the bat, and gave one of the finest exhibitions of wild throwing ever seen in this city.

SECOND PLACE.

As a result of yesterday's doings up and down the circuit the Angels are in second place, Portland advanced to third and the ambitious Bees moved down into fourth. Truly, this is getting to be a marvelous race.

One fashioned a triple with one grr in the first, and kept Zeb's throw to the plate on Gedeon's grounder. B. Ryan hit to right center, and Gedeon ripped around to third. He was safe when Metzger dropped McMullen's relay of Busmiller's throw. Buddy went to second on the play. Both men scored when Zacher bounced a double just a little higher than Metzger could jump. Tennen fanned and Barbour boosted to Walter.

In the home half of the first Williams started wobbling by walking McMullen. Busmiller singled. Both men scored when Walter whapped out a triple with his little bat. Bees fanned and Rube sacrificed him to second. Walter meantime being held out by third. With Zeb at bat Hannah let one of Claude's curves get away from him. It was only a short passed ball, but Walter came home just the same. Truck's attempt to ram him with his back proving unsuccessful. If Hannah wants to do anything like that he should wear a torpedo in the middle of his face in place of his nose. Truck went away and Rohrer took up catching. Zeb scored Koerner with a fly to Zacher, who did not even throw the pill home. Boles fouled out. Nothing happened to Williams in the second except a double by Hughes. Long Tom's hearties left him isolated at second.

BUST.

More things entered into Claude's life in the second. Walter singled and Koerner popped out to Tennen, his famous contemporary. Rube drove sharply to right, and ran it into a double when Faye sat down. Faye has the right idea. If a ball player will sit down occasionally and conserve his energies he will last longer. This blow put Walter on third and brought Chief Larry into the open. The chief had been in hiding since the fourth inning last Wednesday. Walter scored on Zeb's infield out, and Boles singled Elsie home. Walt stole, and continued rally to third when Rohrer squirted the ball fully thirty feet over second. Metzger ended it with a grounder to the chief.

McMullen tripled in the fourth and scored on a single by Busmiller. Al was then knocked out stealing second, and Dillon went in to run where he left off. An infield out and Barbour's juggle of Koerner's drive enabled Faye to score. He then abdicated that Jack Ryan might go out and star some in right field.

A HOMER.

An infield hit by Boles. Orr's toes to the water bucket, and a regular single by Hughes picked another in the fifth. The Angels picked up a couple of superfluous tallies in the sixth. Finding Walter on first as a result of a single, Koerner took it into his head to make a home run. The pill hit the deepest part of the left field fence on the first bounce. Bees got back to the plate safely in advance of it despite a series of rapid relays. Singles by Walter and Rube in the eighth didn't get us anything. The Bees picked up a vagrant tally in the eighth off B. Ryan's single, an error by Zeb and Tennen's sacrifice. The score:

CORONADO PLANNING ON SUMMER POLO SEASON.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

THEY are going to have a summer season of polo at Coronado. It has been definitely decided that the California climate is ideal for the game the year round, and there isn't any reason in the world why polo should be crowded into a few frantic weeks in the winter.

Wherefore, on or about July 26, poloists from all over the State will congregate at Coronado. J. H. Miller and his sons, Hugh Drury, the Weiss brothers, Walter Dupes, Carlston Burke, and Harry Patten have all been holding consultations, and the question of polo is receiving serious cogitation. Robert Neustadt is already on the scene. He and Mr. Herman are going to Riverside this week to investigate the pony proposition up there, and see if Riverside cannot put a full team in the field. The Pasadena men have taken up the idea with enthusiasm.

There is a hint that even some of the eastern players may join the fray. Von Stade, who married Miss Katherine Steele last week, is said to be contemplating winding up his honeymoon on this Coast, and the wires have been busy pointing out to him the desirability of crowning it with a brilliant polo tournament, like the one in which he first won the admiration of his bride.

The only whisper against a polo season at this time has been the expense. Every one is understood to be hard up. And ponies cost like the dickens. But although ponies change hands in flocks after a winter season, they don't become extinct. Most of the men manage to keep their favorites. And those fortunate wealthy ones who make the after-season purchases are said to be more than willing to do the handsome thing.

MEN WILLING.

And if the ponies are forthcoming, the men are willing. Riverside has at least half a dozen good players who could spare the leisure, although one or two of the Englishmen, like Martin Hedmayne, have gone to the war. Santa Monica has at least four players. The Midwick men are all available, and at least a couple of the San Francisco players are going down to Coronado next week.

FORMER NATIONAL CHAMPION TAKES MASSACHUSETTS OPEN TITLE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

BROOKLINE (Mass.) July 1.—Walter C. Hagen of Rochester, N. Y., former national open champion, today won the Massachusetts open golf championship tournament.

His score was 298 for the seventy-two holes of title play, five strokes better than the card of M. J. Brady of Wollaston, winner of the second prize.

Gilbert Nichols of Wilmington, Del., was third, Francis Ouimet of Woodland, the national amateur champion, being tied for fourth honors with J. M. Barnes of Whitmarsh Valley.

STEAMING IS THE HARDEST AND BEST

NOTHING CAN COMPARE TO A PROPERLY STEAMED TROUT.

Steaming in the Coals—Draw the fish without removing head or fins, salt well and if desired fill with bacon or pork. Wrap it in several layers previously dipped in water and lay in the hot coals until done. It is hard to judge the time necessary for this but must be learned by experience. The steam keeps the fish from drying up, therefore there is a good deal of leeway. Take from the fire, remove the leaves and serve. You will taste the most delicate fish you ever put in your mouth if you succeed in steaming it just right.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, July 2.—Miss Vera Grauert, sister-in-law of Lewis H. Turner, the new president of the Tournament of Roses Association, announced tonight her engagement to Dr. Ralph H. Newcomb, at an elaborate dinner given at the Altadena Country Club.

Five years ago Dr. Newcomb met the Grauert at the reception tendered at the National Convention of Physicians held in El Segundo. It was at this reception that Dr. Newcomb met his future bride, Mrs. Turner, sister of the late Mrs. Newcomb.

Who is that charming girl? he asked of Mrs. Turner. "The Grauert," she answered. "She is a very charming girl," he said.

At the dinner, which was given by the Grauert, Mrs. Turner, covers were laid for Miss Grauert, Dr. Newcomb, Mrs. Emily L. Grauert, Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Newcomb, Mrs. Mary and Mr. Alfred E. Egerston, Marvin Ledwood, Fred Turner of Alhambra, Fred Newcomb of New York, Mrs. Glen Wells of Chicago, Miss Clara Newcomb, Mattie Stratton, Pauline Louise Turner, the host and hostess and Miss V. Turner.

TWO WOMEN INJURED.

Two elderly sisters, both more than 70 years old, were struck by an automobile yesterday afternoon as they were crossing Colorado street and Fifth avenue, the most congested intersection in town. The women were in such a stunned condition that they were unable to give their names, but their identity was revealed later by cards which the police found in their hand bags. The cards showed them to be Miss Marie Ellis and Miss Frances Ellis of No. 131 North Maino avenue.

The accident occurred when Miss Marie Ellis was turning the corner of her machine, piling them in one heap back on the sidewalk.

Miss Murray went immediately to the police station and reported the accident. She stated that she was driving fast and that the accident was absolutely unavoidable. Officer Edward Abbott, who witnessed the accident, corroborated the statement.

The two women were rushed to their homes in the police automobile and a physician was called. Both are still suffering from the shock and it is feared they have suffered internal injuries.

SERIOUS OPERATION.

Dr. Morton Hartzell, son of Bishop Hartzell of the Methodist Church, who has the continent of Africa as his parish, underwent a serious operation at the Pasadena Hospital yesterday. Dr. Hartzell was formerly pastor of the Lamanda Park Church, and was obliged to give up his ministerial duties last fall on account of ill health. Last night it was said that he was in a serious condition although he was resting as well as could be expected. Bishop Hartzell has just returned to the United States and is expected to come to Pasadena to visit his son.

SHOOTING AFFAIRS RESULT IN DEATH.

OXFORD ARROUSED WHEN NEGRO KILLS JINNEY BUS DRIVER AT STATION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] OXFORD, July 1.—That C. C. Jinney, a negro, who was killed by a bullet wound at the hands of Slim Wheeler, was the jury's verdict in the shooting case which aroused all Oxford at noon yesterday.

Wheeler had as passengers in his bus for the noon train to Los Angeles a negro man and woman, Adams and Ruby Miller. Wheeler shot at Adams as the car drove up at the station, firing five bullets. Adams was hit in the chest and is not expected to live and the Miller woman is seriously wounded.

A quarrel of long standing existed between Adams and Wheeler over the bus. George Henley and Mason Bradburn, ranchers of the Sepe region, passed over water rights. Bradburn shot Henley, whose condition is critical. For some hours he was not expected to live.

store in the Plithian Block Miller opened fire on Smith, who fled after being wounded in the wrist. Miller then turned the weapon on Baker, wounding him twice in the chest. He died on the way to the hospital in an ambulance.

Miller reloaded his revolver and fled. He was arrested a few moments later at the Howard lodging-house, where he had a room. At the police station he explained that he had shot the woman, but as the chambers of the revolver were completely filled with uncharged shells the statement was doubted. Later Chief of Police Ross visited the house and found the body of Mrs. Howard in a chair. Miller had fired five shots into her body and reloaded, being apprehended a moment later in an adjoining room by Police Captain Kelley.

He declared those he killed were conspiring against him. It is believed he may be demented.

MONETA REJOICES.

Rights-of-Way Secured for Western-Avenue Boulevard to the Sea.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MONETA, July 1.—Citizens got together last night and celebrated the completion of campaign of securing rights-of-way from property holders for the right-of-way on Western avenue or that portion of it which lies in the Moneta district, called district No. 45.

The Board of Trade listened to a review by officers of the progress that has been made here in the last two years. During this period, sea has been secured, a lighting district formed and two boulevards secured. Olive-street boulevard, running just north of town, is a section of the great Compton-Redondo-Riverside boulevard, and now the Western-avenue boulevard runs directly through the town and will be the shortest and best route from the mountains to the sea.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, M. F. Shepherd (re-elected); H. W. Edleston, vice-president; C. A. Bennett, secretary, and W. S. Myers, treasurer. Mr. Shepherd was presented with a gold watch for his services and indefatigability on the Western avenue project.

DROWNED SEEKING HEALTH.

Los Angeles Man Is Found Dead in Swimming Tank at Wheeler's Hot Springs.

M. J. Eads of this city, 34 years of age, was found dead in the swimming tank at Wheeler's Hot Springs, Ventura county, yesterday afternoon. He had been disporting in the water with his companion, Mr. Lockhart, and another young man. The two latter left the tank, leaving young Eads swimming there, he having told them he would join them later.

When Eads did not show up by the time his two companions had dressed, they went looking for him. Not being able to locate the young man, a general search was instituted, resulting in the finding of his body on the bottom of the tank.

Young Eads went to the springs two weeks ago seeking aid for his health. His father left last night for the body. An inquest will be held there today.

SURE IS HARD LUCK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BRYN MAWR, July 1.—Just a few hours after he had purchased a home on West Citrus avenue, between Redlands and Redlands, W. S. Starkleather saw it burn to the ground. Mr. Starkleather had just moved the first load of furniture into the house and returned with the second when the flames broke out. The fire department from Redlands was called, but could get no water. The house was entirely destroyed. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove. Mrs. Starkleather left the stove burning while she went to the barn. She stayed there longer than she intended and when she returned she found the interior of the house a mass of flames.

FATAL INJURIES TO A BRAKEMAN.

ANGELENO CAUGHT COUPLING CARS AT LANCASTER. DIES ON TRAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] LANCASTER, July 1.—Manual Duran, a brakeman on the local freight train, received fatal injuries while coupling cars in front of the station here this morning. He was badly crushed and was unable to tell how the accident happened.

Accompanied by the company surgeon Duran boarded the "Owl" and started to Los Angeles but before the train had reached Vincent, twenty miles away, the victim died.

Duran, who had been in the employ of the company eight years, was 30 years of age and a resident of Los Angeles. He leaves, besides a young widow, an aged mother.

STOCKTON SELECTED.

Next Convention to be Held Up North—Thousands of Endeavorers Parade San Diego.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, July 1.—Stockton was chosen as the next convention city for the State Christian Endeavor Society, according to announcement today by the Location Committee.

The State convention here for the twenty-eighth annual convention concluded its official programme yesterday, but nearly all of the delegates and convention visitors are staying here until Sunday morning, when two steamers leave for the northern ports. Singing hymns as they marched into the Panama-California Exposition this morning, the 5000 Christian Endeavorers from California cities today took part in a special programme in observance of Christian Endeavor Day. The programme at the exposition was the concluding feature of the State Christian Endeavor convention held here.

At the big outdoor organ tonight the visitors heard a sacred concert given by the People's Chorus of 200 voices. Many of the visiting Christian Endeavorers will remain here to attend the three-day Fourth of July celebration, which begins at the exposition Saturday.

SIX COUNTIES INTERESTED.

Railroad Commission to Fix Rates for the San Joaquin Light and Power Company.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FRESNO, July 1.—The application of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation for an order from the State Railroad Commission fixing rates for electrical power is of concern to consumers in six counties of California.

The case of the power company will be presented before Commissioner Theilen in San Francisco by attorney Frank H. Short and W. A. Sutherland. The date set for the first hearing is July 22. Application for a ruling was filed six weeks ago by the company, following complaints from various sources of the territory supplied.

The adjustment of the rates in this case because of the number of people it will affect is regarded as one of the most important problems which has ever come before the commission. The counties concerned are Fresno, Kern, Tulare, Kings, Madera and Merced.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FRESNO, July 1.—A tentative program for the sessions of the International Irrigation Congress, which will be held in September in Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno and ends in San Francisco, was made yesterday at a meeting of the Executive Committee of which L. A. Nares, Fresno, is the chairman. All vice-presidents were here with the exception of F. B. McKevitt, Sacramento. At Stockton the congress will consider "Colonization," at Fresno, "Methods and Results," at Sacramento, "Financial Factors." The National Congress will end in San Francisco, September 30, where a general meeting will end the year's business. The California convention will be known as the traveling congress as excursions will be conducted through the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys and side trips will be made for the benefit of the visitors. J. B. Case, president, Abilene, Kan., is coming to California next month.

District Directors Disfavor Mexican Headings.

Jury Acquits Mexican Man of Assaulting Judge.

Juror Fined and Jailed for Contempt of Court.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, July 1.—To record its attitude relative to the construction of a new intake heading in Mexico, a project which has been threatened several times in connection with controversies between valley water users, Receiver Holabird and creditors of the California Development Company, the Imperial Irrigation District this afternoon adopted the following resolution:

"That the board of directors of this district is not in favor of any heading on the Colorado River in Mexico for delivery of water to American lands so long as it is possible to secure water within a heading located within the United States. We are, however, in favor of the immediate construction of all necessary protective works in the Imperial Valley, and the Chief Engineer is instructed to investigate and report what construction on the Alamo channel is necessary at the present time."

TO ANSWER CRITICS.

The resolution was prepared by John M. Eshelman, associate counsel for the board, and was introduced by Director McBride who said the object is to answer some criticism against the board that it unduly favored the claim of the Southern Pacific Railroad, which claims the district has agreed to purchase the claims for $2,152,000, over those of other creditors.

Various water officials have asserted that to build a heading in Mexico and a short canal to the Alamo would so paralyze the California Development company as to cause forfeiture of its rights of way and tender the judgments and other claims of negligible value, in which case the Southern Pacific would be the only creditor which would not suffer.

Preceding the vote there was a discussion as to whether the resolution should be amended so as to record the board in favor of the construction of a control gate on the Alamo, which, while a protective measure, would also make the connection of the Colorado with the Alamo entirely through Mexican soil a matter of a short space of time, inasmuch as the gate could be as a heading. In the end it was not specifically included.

SNEE ACQUITTED.

Frank Snee, formerly a Mexicali politician, was acquitted tonight by a jury in Justice Mayfield's court of assaulting Judge Guajardo, judge of the First Instance, in the Mexican town on the showing that the judge had been in the habit of not only carrying a gun in Calexico, but also a sword cane. Judge Guajardo was hit in the face by Snee before the COURT AWARDS DAMAGE IN NOTED CEMENT CASE.

Gives About Twenty Per Cent. of Amount Asked for in Riverside Test Litigation—Holds that Everyone has Right to Enjoy Property Unmolested.—Dust from the Works Considered Real Detriment to Land.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, July 1.—That plaintiff is entitled to an award of practically 20 per cent. of the damages prayed for and to an injunction "permanently restraining the defendant company from so operating its cement factory as to discharge into the air and thence upon the plaintiff's property any cement dust or other calcareous or silicious dust emanating in any quantity or amount whatsoever," are the conclusions reached by Judge F. E. Denmore in his decision in the case of Robert N. Bridson vs. the Riverside Portland Cement Company, filed in the Superior Court today.

As the case becomes in a measure a test case for about forty plaintiffs who have similar actions pending, the decision is one of great moment, not only to the company, whose plant represents an investment of more than a million dollars, but to the community whose interests in its relation to the big factory the judge gravely discusses in his findings.

It is generally realized, however, that the decision doesn't mean that the plant must necessarily be closed down, even if the case is not carried to the Supreme Court, which seems altogether probable. The attorneys have thirty days in which to prepare their findings of fact, and the exceptions of defendant's attorneys must, of course, be disposed of before the judgment is finally rendered.

That 20 per cent. is considered too great a quantity of dust to be permitted to escape from the plant is evident in the decision, which refers to the testimony of plaintiff's experts admitting that the dust treators, at the time of their examination a year ago, were 95.12 per cent. efficient. The company, as a matter of fact, has been steadily increasing the efficiency of its dust-treating apparatus up to the present time and is confident that the amount of dust or harmful dust is negligible. The defendant's attorneys specifically refer to the necessity of producing proof in any application for an injunction that the facts today are the same as those upon which the decision of the court was based.

The magnitude of the interests involved in this referred to by the court is not unimpaired of the magnitude of the interests involved in this litigation, nor of the consequences following a decision either way, but the fact that the defendant company has invested over $1,000,000 in its cement plant, which employs from 200 to 300 men, with an annual pay roll in excess of $250,000, can neither be legal defense nor a mitigating circumstance justifying the invasion of a fixed and constitutional right to the enjoyment of property.

"It is not a case where the court can weigh the respective benefits to the community as a whole, nor the stability of maintaining in our midst so certain a crop as a $250,000 annual pay roll. No matter what the magnitude of the wealth on the one side, nor the insignificance of that on the other, the rule of decision must be such as to protect the humblest citizen

RANCHES BURNED OVER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, July 1.—For the fifth time in as many summers the range country in the Deer Creek and Hungry Hollow sections south of this city were burned over by fire said to have been set by ranchers who were burning rubbish. Nearly 6000 acres of range and wheat lands were burned over, with an estimated loss to ranchers of $3000, partially insured. Nearly 300 volunteers from all portions of the east side responded to a call for help, and by strenuous work the blaze was controlled on the edge of the rich Fountain Springs wheat district.

Why Suffer Longer From Ants?

When Their Extermination Is A Comparatively Simple Matter?

If you should ask the average housekeeper to name the principal annoyances with which she has to contend, ants would invariably be given a prominent place in the list. This will not hold true for any great length of time, however, for women everywhere are rapidly learning of the great discovery made by a baker and candy-maker in Los Angeles, whose place was over-run with ants, but who originated a package which rid his shop entirely of them in one day. So rapidly did the news of the discovery spread that it was necessary to build a large factory to supply the demand.

This remedy is put up for general use under the name of Kellogg's Ant-Paste and can be obtained at all good druggists. Women everywhere are using it with surprising results. Try a package today.

NOT ACCOMPLICE
OF RUSTLERS.LANCASTER BUTCHER IS SET
FREE OF CHARGE.

Jury Acquits Him After Short Deliberation, Thereby Causing His Friends Trouble in Suppressing Wild Outburst of Cheering, Costly Trial Hard Fought.

The friends of R. B. Burns, a Lancaster butcher, metaphorically threw their hats in the air and suppressed a cheer when he was acquitted yesterday of receiving beves alleged to have been stolen. The jury in Judge House's court deliberated on the verdict from 10:30 o'clock in the morning until 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, with a hiatus of one hour for lunch, and the delay did not add to the peace of mind of the butcher's adherents. It did not phase Luther Brown, Mr. Burns's attorney, who predicted his acquittal.

Mr. Burns became implicated in the cattle rustling case of Antelope Valley after the conviction of Joe Rivera and the acquittal of John Cason by the jury in Judge Weathers's court. Rivera's conviction was based on circumstantial evidence. He, with others, was alleged to have run off a big black cow with a crumpled horn and a Jersey heifer from the ranch of Elias Muns one night last year. It was sought to show that the cattle were butchered on the Rivera ranch; that hides found sunk in a lake were portions of Mr. Muns's cattle, and that Mr. Burns peddled some of the alleged stolen meat in Lancaster. One cattle owner of Antelope Valley bought some of the meat, and declared positively that it was from a Jersey heifer, because she could tell by the taste.

Attorney Brown held stoutly that not one bit of evidence had been produced by Special Deputy District Attorney Bell to show that Mr. Burns had received this alleged stolen meat. From start to finish the trial was hard fought for several weeks. The cost to the county will aggregate $4000.

SANTA MONICA CASE.

BEFORE THE GOVERNOR.

The bombshell thrown into the city of Santa Monica by the receivership suit of A. W. McPherson did not explode yesterday when the Mayor and other city officers hurried to Judge Sherk's court in response to the order to show cause. The legal mine had the effect of focusing the light on the Governor, who is to be asked to appoint three men to act as Commissioners pending the general election in December.

In view of this fact City Attorney Tanner and Attorney Hunter agreed on a continuance, and the case went over until Thursday. By that time the Governor is expected to have made his appointments.

SEEK RECEIVER.

FOR ACCIDENT ASSOCIATION.

Because it cannot meet its obligations, a receiver and the forfeiture of its corporate rights are asked in a suit filed against the California Accident Association by Atty.-Gen. Webb yesterday. The obligation of five women being named to whom the money is owing. It is alleged that the association is insolvent and that the receiver is necessary to distribute the assets of the corporation, and particularly the relief or emergency fund of $1000, which is held in trust for the contract holders.

WALLACE-HUNTINGTON.

LAND CASE TO BE TRIED.

Kenneth Wallace, son of former Lieut.-Gov. Wallace, who some time ago homesteaded six acres at San Marino, won a point yesterday when Judge Work denied the motion of the Huntington Land and Improvement Company to throw it out of court. The case will go to trial in a Land Office decision Mr. Wallace lost. His claim was set aside and the corporation was granted permission to file an application for the purchase of the property on the ground that the company had paid taxes for years on the land.

APPEAL BOND.

IN YIDDISH LANGUAGE.

F. Weiner, a Hebrew peddler, and his relatives signed their names in the Jewish language to an appeal bond. The law says the signature must be in English. Moreover, they raised the ire of Percy F. Backus, an attorney, because Mr. Backus was peddling the bond to every clerk in the Justice's office in order to get a certified copy, found not one a linguist. Perforce he was obliged to have the bond photographed.

LET 'ER GO.

BIG EXPLOSION TODAY.

For the benefit of the jury trying the damage suits of Charles Titlow and his mother-in-law for the loss of his home and the furnishings, it will be demonstrated in front of the Courtroom this morning whether a gasoline-filled lamp will cause an explosion large enough to fire and burn down a house.

Mr. Titlow claims he ordered gasoline and kerosene in separate cans and that the delivery boy employed by the Florence Trading Company negligently switched the oils so that Mrs. Titlow, thinking she was using the kerosene can, picked up the gasoline and filled the lamp which exploded. The delivery boy denies he made the mistake.

HARD ROAD.

THIS MARRIED LIFE.

Matrimony was no sweet song to Joseph F. Journey, in fact, he traveled a hard road with Mrs. Journey, according to his story told in the divorce court yesterday. The spirits played some part in his domestic woes. One message he said, also received from the dead told her that he had lost his business judgment and was no good.

Everything that Mr. Journey did found no favor in his wife's eyes, he declared. When he needed sleep, having to rise before daylight, he said she nagged him. She did not cook for him or eat at the same table with him. She did not bother about his clothes. Once, he testified, she took his wearing attire and sprinkled the articles with a hose. She told him the water was more needful to her in the house than his clothing. An exhibit of the case was his photograph, which he said his wife had ripped in half. The suit will be resumed today.

HAMMEL'S SUIT.

RAISES BIG POINTS.

The power of the court to issue a writ of mandamus over the Board of Control and the insufficiency of the petition were the points raised by former Judge Clarke, deputy Attorney-General, in the suit of ex-Sheriff Hammel to recover $1299.55. From the Board of Control, which acted on these previous claims, the board cannot now make this offset.

"TURNED UP."

BY HIS SWEETHEART.

Earl Wyatt, charged with burglarizing the house of Attorney Ben W. Hahn, in Pasadena, the night of February 18 last, was convicted in Judge House's court yesterday. Wyatt, entering the house left the imprint of his shoe in the sand under the window. An effort was made to show that the track fitted the foot of Mr. Hahn himself but the jury took no stock in the defense. Wyatt is an ex-convict having been sentenced by Judge McCormick to a term in San Quentin several years ago. He denied that he had ever been convicted. "I pleaded guilty," he said. "Wyatt was a lot of property from the Hahn home, which he disposed of for $5. He claimed that he was sick at home the time of the burglary. Wyatt was 'turned up' by his sweetheart, Miss Iona Naumann. Wyatt and the girl had quarreled. It is said and had given the girl a warning belonging to Mrs. Hahn. Some time ago Wyatt operated in the vicinity of Sawtelle and Westgate and it is alleged that he committed a series of burglaries there, one of which sent him to San Quentin. He claims to be a nephew of ex-United States Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon, and is well connected in Portland. An inquiry has substantiated the truth of some of his claims.

CRIMINAL MATTERS.

IN HALL OF JUSTICE.

In Judge Craig's court yesterday the following cases were disposed of on preliminary pleas.

ERNEST LIGHTFOOT, robbery, pleaded not guilty; trial date October 7.

Vito Spataro, assault with a deadly weapon, pleaded not guilty; trial date September 24.

Erick Lemke, lewd act, pleaded not guilty; trial date July 6.

Francesa Kyle, forgery, pleaded guilty, probation and sentence July 14.

Miguel Vera, burglary, pleaded not guilty; trial date August 24.

Frank Alvarado, burglary, pleaded guilty; sentence July 6.

Pat Messner and Harry Freeman, attempt to rob, pleaded not guilty; trial date August 16.

Joseph L. Brennan, bigamy, pleaded guilty, probation and sentence July 14.

The jury in the case against Jack Daily, who was charged with making an assault with a deadly weapon upon his wife, Clara Daily, found him guilty, though Daily claimed that the only assault of which he was guilty was in trying to wrest a revolver from his better half.

In Judge Willis's court, a jury found Joseph Repa guilty of forgery, and recommended him to the extreme penalty of the court. July 2 was set as the date for probation and sentence.

BOND SCARES
JIT DRIVERS.BUS NOT SO NUMEROUS AS IN DAYS OF IRRESPONSIBILITY.

Rush of Survivors to Comply with New Ordinance Occasioned by Warning Sent from Police Commission—Members of Jit Trust Get Cheaper Bonds than Outsiders.

The bonded jit is on the street today in much smaller number than the bus that wasn't fitted in bond.

The era of responsibility arrived yesterday. It came with the hot flush of July. The owners, operators or drivers of the jitbus now caroming, cruising and sometimes carousing over the streets must plaster their peripatetic pets with $11,000 worth of surety.

Bonds cost money. It is worth something to be responsible. That may explain why there are not so many jitbus on the street today as there were a few days ago.

NO WIDENING

OF VERMONT AVENUE.

The Public Works Committee of the Council yesterday put the quietus on the proposed widening of Vermont avenue from Sixth street to the Los Fells road. Property owners who protested the widening appeared before the committee with the assertion that $5656 has been raised by petition along the street to defray half the costs already incurred. This is virtually as much as the committee required, and the remainder will be provided today.

change the zone boundary to make this territory dry. The main reason for the action, some of the property owners say, is to clear the street of liquor establishments as a large dry goods store is to be opened at Seventh and Grand, and the street necessarily will become a shopping thoroughfare.

Cut by Budget-makers.

The Budget Committee whittled up another set of carving knives, pruning hooks and paring devices yesterday, trimming from the estimates of the Civil Service Commission a paltry matter of $5090. This was accomplished by eliminating some offices asked for and adding others. The commission was given $10,130 last year and asked for $17,500 this year. An investigator is added, but clerks and others requested were denied.

Municipalities.

Engineer Barker of the Board of Public Utilities probably will resign because of a salary cut from $2400 to $2400 per year. He has had an offer from the State Railroad Commission and may accept.
